Select Poetry.

A BABY RHYME.

So new the kiss, so new the bliss
Of baby fingers tender—
A weight so warm upon the arm,
A sleepy, breathing splender;
O baby-bird sleep in thy nest,
Dear, warm wee bird, sleep in thy nest.

Two hands clasped fast, two lids downcast,
(Eyes—brown or blue, which mother?)—
A heart as white as flowers at night,
Moon-kissed that kiss each other;
Like birds at rest, so thou in nest
Sleep, baby-bird, sleep in thy nest.

So white the earth grew at thy birth,
(Thy tiny feet were whiter)—
So light the fall of snow o'er all,
(Thy warm hou e nest was lighter;)
O baby rest, in folded nest,
And sleep, sweet bird, within such nest.

But baby dear, it is so queer,
Sometimes this world is clouded
And grey, and grey, beneath the day,
It looks like friar shrouded.
But little guest, sleep in thy nest,
Nor know the rest—sleep in the nest.

And over thee, all warm I see
Two tear-bright eyes bend fondly;
And folded fast, upon thee cast,
Are kisses falling softly.
Then, bird at rest within the nest,
Sleep well, sleep well—sleep in the nest.

O tiny thing without a wing,
O bird with song yet hidden;
The guests with glee would welcome thee
To life's feast later bidden;
And while the West calls day to rest
We say, dear bird, sleep in thy nest.

The Philosophy of Bolting.

Bolting is a modern term, used to describe the action of party men who do not abide the decision of the caucus or convention. The political signification of the word is new and special, but the political conduct which it describes presents no new phase in party politics.—Nearly the entire membership of old Federal party "bolted" that organization.—The Congressional caucus nomination for the Presidency, in 1824, was "bolted" by four fifths of the people. The Whig party was "bolted" out of existence in a single year, and replaced by the Republican party. The Democratic nomination in 1860 was "bolted," and that party has never recovered, and never will recover from the consequence of that "bolt."—[illegible] had existence, has experienced the 'bolt,' and it has extended to nomination for every office, from that of President of the United States to that of township constable.

There is a philosophy of "bolting."—Politically speaking, the springs of action with individuals may be self interest, disappointed ambition, or something worse. But masses of people are not moved by bad motives. What we call public opinion is a sentiment or judgment common to large numbers, with nothing individual about it. It results from general discussion and reflection; from the comparison of many opinions, by many individuals, and the adoption of what may appear to be sound and good however ejected or evolved. Generally slow in formation and proceeding on solid grounds, it loses as it advances, whatever of the personality it originally had, and becomes as abstract as the written law. This sort of public opinion is necessarily always honest, and is aptly and truly described by the maxim, "Vox populi est vox Dei."

In matters of politics and political management "bolting" is only a form of expression of public opinion. It is the great remedy for the correction of political abuses, just as in matters ecclesiastical it has been and is still the great agency by which reforms have been and are being accomplished. People do not bolt what is pure and good either in politics or church. In this age of the world, and especially in this country, the degenerate party in politics and the degenerate church cannot long, by means of political or ecclesiastical excommunication, shield themselves from the purifying influences of the "bolt." But the "bolt" is rare and exceptional, for the reason that the operation of the causes which sometimes produce it generally results in the reformation of the abuses complained of. Cure a diseased limb if you can (and most diseases, human and political, are curable). If you cannot, and there be danger that the disease may spread and involve other parts of the body, cut it off. Politically speaking, the "bolt combines the resources both of medicine and surgery,

A word to Republicans. The principles which constitute the platform of our party are founded on justice and equality of political rights. They have been adopted and are now embraced by a majority of the people of the United States. We do not doubt that they will endure as long as free government itself endures. The party, too, represents the intelligence, honesty and patriotism of the country. Its record is glorious and imperishable. The public men who have represented the Republican party for the last ten years, have had, with few exceptions, the public confidence and deserved it. In no age of the world, in no country, has statesmanship been put to severer trial than during the last ten years in this country. In no age of the world, in no country has it accomplished more in the permanent interests of freedom and human rights. But our noble ship, tossed by a thousand tempests, has returned to port much out of repair. Her machinery, long on the strain, has become weakened; and she has shipped too many seamen who do not serve for love of country. She wants more propelling power and better direction. She wants a better crew. The National Administration has the public confidence, so has the State Administration. But another General Assembly as bad as any of those of '67, '68, '69 or '70 will place our party in a minority in Pennsylvania. We want radical reforms which can be accomplished only by a Constitutional Convention. But for the present, we want better men in office, and a better mode of selecting them as candidates. If a nomination has been bought or secured by trickery and fraud, let it be repudiated and exposed. The pretended Republican who stuffs ballot-boxes at primary meetings—who packs conventions with delegates not elected—who counts candidates into nomination by false marks, who buys votes for ready cash, etc., however zealous, vigilant and active in the campaign, is not wanted in the Republican ranks. Every successful party, however, has many such. Having no honesty themselves, they do not believe in public virtue. What honest people call dishonesty, fraud and forgery, they call political "management," "shrewdness," "wire pulling," "slate making," "putting through," etc. Of course the politician of this class always claims to be extremely radical, acting on the principle of the man who, conscious of his own shortcoming in the way of honesty, makes up for the deficiency by very loud professions of it.

We call on the Republican masses to come out in their power and make their own nominations. Come out and put to flight the vultures who are preying on the living body of your party. Reform the organization, and take it into your own hands while it has life and vigor. Use medicine while medicine has virtue; and resort to surgery only as a last resource. We have had warning, and it will be wise to heed it. To-day there is a cloud in the political heavens, not larger than a man's hand; to-morrow we may hear the muttering of distant thunder. To-day the cry is, Republicans to the rescue of your organization. To-morrow it may be, "To your tents, O Israel." Do not wait until the hand is seen writing on the wall, we shudder to say what. "Bolt" all and every "political [illegible] manner" [illegible] of the political integrity which made Lincoln President, and which his death hallowed. Give General Grant the moral and political support of fit nominations, honestly made and willingly and zealously ratified by the people. This done and continued, we will carry victory on our standards down to the end of the century.

As nations advance in wealth and numbers, and as their commercial affairs multiply, the character of their private banking firms becomes of the highest importance.

Trade watches the manipulations of those who handle its medium of exchange with the keenest and most anxious scrutiny. Distrust in reference to the processes that transfer money is instantly felt to the remotest extremity of the body politic, and in order to keep the latter in healthy action, the flow must be pure and regular in a business point of view, and must sweep through uncontaminated channels.

We have been lead to these remarks by careful observation of some of our high-toned banking firms, and the saving influence which they have exercised over business by the excellence of their example. Among these, the house of Henry Clews & Co., has become eminent, of late years, for those qualities that should distinguish the financial calling.

Henry Clews, Esq., the senior partner and head of this esteemed house—a native of England, and about thirty-six years of age—came to the United States as early as 1849, with his father, whose heavy connection with American trade gave the young man an immediate opportunity of noting the active, enterprising, and yet peculiarly practical tone of our people.

The latter so won upon him that he determined to abandon the study for the ministry, which had been his first intention, and betake himself to business. With this view he quickly sought and obtained a clerkship in one of the most prominent woolen houses of the day, where his untiring industry for a probationary term of nine years—his integrity, promptitude, intelligence, and, at the same time, his excellent personal habits and amiability of temperament—gave him solid position, and won for him, literally, hosts of friends. Mr. Wilson G. Hunt, the head of the house where he was thus employed, bestowed upon him the highest marks of approval as his service lengthened, and, at last, when Mr. Clews sought an independent path, vouched for his ability and integrity.

At the early age of twenty-five, Mr. Clews became a member of the enterprising banking firm of Stout, Clews & Mason. After one or two changes of title, but all the while rising in public esteem, the house is now established, and respected, far and wide, under the title of Henry Clews & Co.

The same energy, clear-sightedness, and activity, which had given the subject of our sketch his first success, attended him as he advanced. From dealing in commercial paper, he took up Government Securities, when heavy loans were continually negotiating for the nation. The needs of the country were pressing, and in the patriotism and intellect of Mr. Clews, found timely help. By his arguments and ready investments, other capitalists were encouraged to step forward at the moment when weaker heads and colder hearts were afraid to endorse the Union loan. To his example, Mr. Clews added the influence of personal representation, and by his agreeable manners, as well as by the resources of his thorough business knowledge, carried many a firm with him in the good work, which otherwise might have stood aloof. His faith never swerved in the darkest hours of the country's trials, and as the clouds grew more somber, his enthusiasm only brightened.

At length, in 1864-65 the Clews concern had raised its business operations to several millions per diem, of which the National loan received a goodly share.

At last the war terminated, and Mr. Clews and his associates found themselves among the wealthiest and most distinguished of American bankers. This position was easily maintained and steadily improved, until 1868, when all stock operations for members of the firm, either individually or collectively, were, by written agreement, abandoned. As the country, resuming its activity, began to breathe freely again, and the busy hum of railroad preparation was heard from all quarters, making ready for a new development of national prosperity, Mr. Clews found fresh opportunities for beneficial investment, and of these his sagacious mind and acquired experience made brilliant use. The national securities, which he held, were sold by him to an extent sufficient to set free a considerable amount of the capital that he had placed in them, and these funds were, at once, reinvested in railroad loans. At the present time, the Clews firm are the financial agents of some of the most important roads in the United States.

The passing visitor in Wall street has but to glance at the busy throng which hurries in and out of their spacious offices, in the edifice formerly used by the United States Treasury, through the working-day, in order to feel satisfied public confidence and esteem. The impression is general, that when his name appears in connection with any projected improvement, all is well. Nor is Mr. Clews unaccustomed to express his financial opinions with terseness and power. He wields a trenchant pen, and the highest financial intellects in the land have profitted by his suggestions.

Still in the prime of manhood, Mr. Clews stands upon an eminence to which few others have been able to climb. Behind and around him, lie beautifully ordered, the evidences of untiring exertions, that have sustained and extended the welfare of the country, and filled his own coffers with well-earned rewards.

The future brightens at his feet, full of noble opportunities. Who can doubt that the after-career of so gifted and valued a citizen will reflect still fairer honor upon the name of the American merchant, and the estimate in which the world shall hold the characteristic type of the American gentleman.—New York Mercantile Journal.

An Active Year.

Notwithstanding the temporary depression of our home business in many branches, and the stagnation of affairs in part of Europe, resulting from political uncertainties, the fact grows daily more apparent that the year 1870 is yet to be one of the most active and important of our time. The development of this country goes steadily onward, despite recent exhaustion by war, and the retarding effect of the changes made in whole communities by political reconstruction. The South and West gain ground more rapidly than ever before, and in the Eastern States, railroad enterprise is effecting positive wonders. The communication established between our Pacific and Atlantic coasts by the trans Continental railroad is attaining greater perfection by daily habit and use, and trade along the line is destined to multiply during the Summer near at hand. Within this twelvemonth, too, the Darien Isthmus project will be fairly started by practical surveys and reports, and it is more than rumored that new lines of steamers will increase our traffic, on both sides of the Continent, with the ports of South America. At the same time, look which way we may, we see this nation, in all the length and breadth of its domain, pushing onward with ever increasing energy and momentum. If politicians are lame and halting, the people are not. They delve and dig and build and clear away the obstructions of nature, and, while, in our crowded communities, the voice of complaint is, here and there heard, out in the healthy fields and forests, the ploughman's whistle and the woodman's axe still sound the merry measure of advancing prosperity.

In our immediate neighborhood beyond the frontier, the British Possessions on the North, are far less swiftly, indeed, yet with fair progress, peopling the interior wilderness. On the South, dissention still unfortunately harasses and cripples Mexico, but railroad enterprise and modern manufactures have, nevertheless, acquired a foothold there, and whichever side may prevail, will hold their own.

Central America is doing better than at any former period of its history, and feels a thrill of freshened vigor at the prospect of a ship-canal across the Isthmus of Tehauntepec. This year is especially set down for the opening of new channels of intercourse and trade, which will let a flood of modern ideas upon the sleepiness of [illegible]

The Sandwich Islands, although scantily peopled, are alive and fresh; lines of steam navigation, additional schools, and better newspapers, will date from the middle of the present year.

Journeying still farther in our survey, we come upon a scene of brilliant activity in Japan, China, and Australia. There a host of novel enterprises, based upon the immense extent and resources of those regions, have already been recorded, since the 1st of January. In that direction lies half the numerical strength of the human race, and, from their old drowsiness, the Oriental tribes have been awakened to almost feverish activity. We see the Chinese striking out on migratory expeditions to all parts of the world, while, at the same time, a stream of these grotesque wanderers is returning from Europe and America, taking back with them the arts, inventions, and governmental ideas of the Caucasian race.

Europe is indeed a swarming hive, at this moment, and, although disturbed, at every point, by political agitation, is extending her commercial relations.—Her trade, by way of the Isthmus of Suez, is becoming a practical success, and the Mount Cenis tunnel is hastening to completion, only about 1,600 metres remaining to be finished. The navigation of the Baltic and the North Sea has greatly improved, and, along the Mediterranean, the old Italian cities are regaining their former prestige. On the Adriatic, Venice, the quondam Queen of Oriental commerce, is putting on fresh youth, is assuming a distinguished rank. Trieste, the great Austrian mart, opposite to Venice, is sending out fleets of trading steamers, on all sides, and will increase them this year by at least two important lines.

Turkey and Egypt, which may, now, to all intents and purposes, be considered European, have made great strides onward, within the twelvemonth past, and the impulse is doubly felt this year.

In fine, to the gaze of the journalist, who, from his quiet watchtower, can survey the whole scene of human activity with calm, unprejudiced eyes, the panorama of 1870 is one of the most life-like, vivid, and momentous in the stirring vista of the Present. Let us gird up our loins, then, on this side of the great Ocean, to make it a memorable one for New York.—New York Mercantile Journal.

Beauty for Ashes, and Treasury Pap for the Ring.

Some weeks ago we called the attention of the taxpayers, to the published report of the Commissioners and Auditors, exhibiting the financial condition of the funds in the hands of the Philistines—custodians of the county. It was a plain unvarnished statement copied from that report. After waiting several weeks, we find the Buchanier of the Watchman, sallies forth last week, in four editorials, defending the malpractice and peculation of the county funds by the custodians. And what a defence! They plead guilty to the charges we made. Hear them:—They say, "That report (the Auditors) showed that the taxpayers of the county are indebted to the Commissioners some $37,144 98 and that the entire indebtedness amounts to but $35,893,-74. So that if all taxes were collected and paid, the county would be out of debt, and have in the Treasury, $1,-305 24."

True as twice two make four! and so we charged them. But the truth-that the Auditors report showed that the taxpayers of the county were indebted to the Commissioners." This is simply a falsehood. But it did state that the outstanding taxes for the year 1868, and previous years, in the hands of the collectors amounted to the sum of $37,144 98. Why were not these taxes collected and the debt paid, leaving a balance in the Treasury? Was it for the purpose of keeping up the oppressive county tax? When the report and the Watchman admit that if the Commissioners had done their duty, Centre county would be out of debt and our county taxes lowered, and the taxpayers relieved.

But instead of this the defenders of the Commissioners tell us, through the Watchman, that "early in January, to meet pressing demands upon the county Treasury, the Commissioners were compelled to negotiate a loan of $13,-000—upon this note paying at the rate of 12 per cent per annum."

Here is the Ring's financial system, covering up the conduct of their delinquent collectors who have not settled or paid into the Treasury, the collected taxes for years. Sooner than offend these collectors and compel them to pay up, the Commissioners "negotiate a loan" of thousands of dollars, paying therefor, 12 per cent. interest, thus increasing the county debt to the amount of the illegal interest, which will increase the taxes, whereas if the Commissioners had done their sworn duty, the people of the county would have to pay less taxes and no usurious interest.

What says the law in regard to the duty of county Commissioners, Treasurers and Collectors? The law declares that it is "The duty of Commissioners within three months from the delivering of the Duplicate to the Collectors, &c., stating the amount due and unpaid by such Collectors, &c., to have the effect of a judgment," &c.

This the Commissioners generally attended to. The law, further, declares that—

"Every Collector of the proper county, shall, within three months after receiving the corrected Duplicate, pay into the hands of the Treasurer of the proper county, &c., the whole amount of the taxes charged and assessed in such duplicate."

Then comes the 48th section, declaring that—

"If any person who has heretofore been, or hereafter shall be, a Collector of taxes, and shall have neglected or refused to pay the Treasurer of the respective county within the time limited by law, all such sums of money, which shall be due on his Duplicate, &c.,—the Treasurer is hereby authorized and required to issue his warrant under his hand and seal, directed to the Sheriff or Coroner of the proper county, to take the body and seize and secure all the estate, real and personal, of the delinquent collectors," &c.

Now the law intended, and so commanded, that the Treasurer, when a Collector refused or neglected to pay the Treasurer, should, and was absolutely required to issue his warrant against the delinquent Collectors. This, as our readers will see, is made a part of his sworn duty: but is not now the practice.

This would not suit the Commissioners. Their drones must be fed, and five per cent. must be paid the Collectors, and another five per cent must be made by the Commissioner's Attorneys, and 12 per cent, paid for the loan of money to keep up the Treasury and accommodate the pet private bankers of the Ring. Deny it if you dare.

Tax payers of Centre—honest tax-ridden Democrats—what think you of the workings of the Court House Ring financially? Can you see how the debt is to be paid, taxes lowered, and usurious interest prevented so long as the present gormorants are to be fed, and clothed, and kept by the taxpayers of the county?

The Outstanding Taxes.

Our strictures on the Court House Ring, and its manifold shortcomings, rascalities, and bold and reckless stealings to use no harsher phrase, has at length aroused the ire of the Ring and caused their paid tool, the editor of the Watchman, to devote three columns and a half of that delectable sheet, editorially to a defense of this Ring—this band of public robbers.

The very fact that Mr. Meek, devotes so much of his space to the defense of the Ring, and to what he is pleased to term "Facts and figures about County matters" is proof positive that there is "something rotten in Denmark," and that he sets up the "stop thief cry" in order the more successfully to pull the wool over the eyes of the tax-ridden people of Centre County. As we have shown in another article, Mr. Meek, alleges that the Auditors Report, "showed that the tax-payers of the County, are indebted to the Commissioners some $37,144, 98 and that the entire indebtedness amounts to but $35,893,74 so that if the taxes were all collected and paid over the County would be out of debt and have in its Treasury $1,305.24."

Now mark the palpable, plain blunt lie, which is contained in the above. Meek says that "report showed that the tax-payers of the County are indebted" &c. Reader, honest Democrat, do you owe centre County any taxes for 1868 and previous years? No, you do not. You have paid every farthing, to the tax collectors of "previous years." You paid your taxes punctually like men, and found no difficulty in doing so under the most prosperous times under "Radical" or Republican rule, that this country ever saw.

No, as Horace Greely, would say Meek is a liar when he asserts that the tax-payers of the County are indebted to the Commissioners $37,144 debted to the Commissioners in that sum. They have collected the money for the most part from the tax payers and instead of paying it over to the Commissioners, they have put it into their own pockets and are using it for their own advantage, and in some cases as we have reason to believe, have sunk the entire amount, which is a total loss to the County. This is the work of Democratic Collectors—defaulting Collectors appointed by Democratic Commissioners who have neglected their duty and violated their oath of office, in our opinion, by refusing to compel the payment of this money on the part of these defaulting Collectors.

We have shown, in another place, what the law declares to be the duty of the County Treasurer. Has the Treasurer done his duty, or is he doing his duty at the present time as required by law? No; Emphatically no! But instead of performing his duty he has been, as we asserted two weeks ago, running over the county offering ten per cent. interest for money on the Commissioners note, rather than do his bounden duty in issuing his warrants and compelling defaulting collectors to pay over the monies they collected in 1868, and previous years, when the times were good, and hated Radicals had filled the country with greenbacks—greenbacks, beautiful and good, and almost as plenty as autumn leaves.

Let the readers remember that the Auditors report states these outstanding taxes for 1868 and previous years, when every person—the farmers, the daily laborer, the mechanic, and even lawyers had plenty of money, more of it than they ever had before, and then listen to the following baby-talk from Meek:

"Because the Commissioners have not succeeded in getting this money collected, because they have not sent an officer of the law with an execution and no mercy, into every poor man's house in the county, who has been unable to pay the taxes levied upon him, to sell the little he has gathered together for the necessities of his family and the requirements of life, in order to force the payment of his taxes, is why they are compelled to bear the abuse, the villification and scurility of these exponents of the negro voting party."

Meek, it appears, will never learn that low slang, vituperation, personal abuse of those who differ with him is not argument, and that the people of Centre county are about as intelligent as he—too intelligent to be deceived and gulled into believing his silly twaddle. But hear him again:

"No one would be spared. The few comforts the laboring men of our country have been able to furnish their families—the necessaries of life they have collected for the maintenance of their wives and little ones—their homes—all, all would be placed under the hammer of the collector, and be sacrificed, in ordor that the county would get, at once, the taxes it is required to assess to pay a debt fastened upon us by the Radical party, would be wrung from the over-burdened taxpayers. * * * It is not the fault of the people of our county: not the fault of the collectors; not the fault of the County Commissioners; not the fault of the Treasurer, that so great an amount of taxes remain unpaid. It is the fault of the Radical party. It has made 'times so hard;' money so scarce, and our people so poor that it is impossible for them to pay their taxes promptly.—This is why there was $37,144 98 outstanding taxes at the January settlement in this county—why the debt is not paid and the interest on loans to the county stopped at once."

Now, we affirm, fearless of contradiction, that there is not one word of truth in the above. It is a tissue of falsehood from beginning to end. The people have paid their taxes for 1868, and previous years, and it is the fault of the Collectors; it is the fault of the Commissioners; it is the fault of the Treasurer, that so great an amount of taxes remain unpaid to the County Treasurer. It is not the fault of the Radical party in any particular; for as we have said before, under Republican rule during '68, and previous years, such times have never been enjoyed in this or any other country on the face of "God's green earth," and when people were all flush, having plenty of money with which to pay their taxes, and at the same time build homes for themselves, and furnish their families with all the necessaries of life.

It is the fault of the Commissioners, because they are, in violation of their oath of office, shielding these defaulting Collectors. It is the fault of the Treasurer, because he refuses as required by the law to issue his warrant and compel these defaulting Collectors to pay over the money which they have already "wrung from the tax-ridden people."

It is not the fault of the Republican party because under Republican rule the County taxes were but two mills and a half to the dollar, while now under the supervision of the Court House Ring the County taxes are six mills or 6¼ mills to the dollar.

Moreover we allege P. G. Meek, willfully, deliberately and maliciously lies when he asserts that the County debt under Republican rule, before the war was $145,000. The new Court House was contracted for, under the Democratic regime. The new jail which cost $60,000, was the work of the Democratic party—the Court House Ring. Why is it that these gormorants—these men whom we have shown negligent of almost every well defined duty, so far neglected to publish a full and explicit statement of the cost of the new jail? Will their exponent Mr. Meek, answer? In the meantime we will patiently await the answer.

Th Pending Tariff.

We agree with the New York Tribune bill ought to be recommitted to the Ways and Means Committee, and there abandoned. There is no crying necessity for the present tinkering with the Revenue, and the delay on this bill to the exclusion of more vital measures, is disgusting the public.—More than three weeks have been consumed in considering about one-third of the bill, and the chances are that at the present rate of progress the whole session will be wasted in the same way. Practically, the bill is already a failure; it ought not to delay business interminably."

Seven members of our State were absent when the vote on pig iron was taken last week. Hon. J. B. Donley of the 24th District, has, we learn, satisfactorily accounted for his absence when that vote was taken in the House. It appears that he was duly paired. We have as yet heard no excuse on the part of the other absentees. There is no question which can come before our Congress of more vital importance to all the interests of Pennsylvania than that of Protection to American Industry, or that other great question of National finance. No member can afford to be absent from his seat when the vote is taken upon either of these great questions, without being able to give a clear and logical reason, for such absence, to his constituents.

Read the Law, Meek.

It is very evident, although Mr. Meek did serve two years in the Legislature, and aided, by his votes, in making laws for our noble old Commonwealth, that he is ignorant of the laws of the State, both general and local. If he was not ignorant of the law, do our readers suppose he would so stultify himself as to give publicity to the following:

"Why Mr. Wolf's name should be dragged into the matter, is more than we can understand. With the county finances, he has nothing to do except to receive and pay out. It is the Commissioners that negotiate all loans and Mr. Wolf is simply responsible for what money's are put in his hands, and nothing else."

We pity Meek's readers, if they are foolish enough to believe such twaddle. We have shown in another article that Mr. Wolf has something more to do than to receive and pay out money. The law makes it his duty to issue his warrant, and compel defaulting Collectors to pay up.

THE New York Star, a paper of decidedly Democratic affinities, calls "common sense to the front," and remarks "What is the use of more fuss about the darkey? Pleasant or unpleasant, the fact is that the Constitution of the United States, by the Fifteenth Amendment, recognizes the black man as a citizen, and grants him all the rights of such. Now that it is settled that he can vote, the question is, who will get his vote. There is no use in sweeping against the tide. It is much easier to go with it—and you can't go against it."

The Philadelphia North American of Friday last contains some just and sensible remarks in exposition of the real object of the late attack upon the iron interest of Pennsylvania in Congress. The assault made upon Penn'a. in the present free trade contest, it says, has been so vehement and determined that we feel sure one conspicuous feature in it was to make the position of this interest appear generally selfish, monopolizing and odious, while securing under cover of this attack a vast number of other objects. The Free Trader, the organ of the sect, acknowledges this in the following Jesuitical style:

"The prize of the entire war is recognized by both parties. No word has been fairly spoken, yet every one knows that the fight is for the abolition of the iron duties. This day the most iniquitous, most injurious, and most inexcusable burden ever placed by cupidity upon the backs of an unreflecting people, is doomed! The year 1870 will see iron placed upon the free list."

This is a ruse. It is true that iron is most assailed, and the feint seems to be to pretend that it is the principal object, so as to render other interests unwatchful. But it is the height of folly to suppose that if this great point can be carried the others would be spared. It is the leading manufacture of the country, and around it all the others have heretofore rallied. No doubt its possession is the key to manufacturing capacity anywhere. The iron duty is only held up as iniquitous and unjust because the free trade movement is directly aimed at all our industrial efforts. Let not our own manufacturers run away with the idea that they may escape if the iron phalanx be broken. If it goes down, their fall is as sure as daylight, for there is no other organization of an industrial kind in the country at all in the same strength, and capable of union and commanding operations; nor can there be any.

To crush the iron trade by repealing the duty, means simply to leave the rest of the structure weak and tottering. The enormous progress of this trade is owing partly to the war, but mainly to the tariff. Every branch of this trade has made the same progress—the mining of the coal and the iron, and all the subsequent processes into which iron enters as the chief element, of which the number and extent are vast. Hitherto the whole trade has stood manfully together from a common interest, and they have all alike prospered together. The effort now is to separate them by making the main attack on pig iron; but, as we have said, that is simply an attack on all the rest. The iron and coal of England are the chief elements of would have no existence. The industrial organization of any nation is based solely upon these, and any attack upon them is simply to take the foundations away.

The Negro Vote.

BALTIMORE, April 20.—The Executive Committee of the National Union League of America held a meeting here last evening. Ex-Governor W. A. Newell, of New Jersey, presided. Resolutions were adopted pledging the National Executive Committee to aid in securing all rights to every American citizen, at all times and under all circumstances.—Telegraphic dispatch.

We like the sound of this telegram. It has the true ring. It tells us that the most powerful auxiliary the Republican party has had in its glorious work, is pledged to stand by the negro voter in his guaranteed rights. What a contrast is this action of the Union League of America to the blatant resolution of Democratic clubs and conventions! And it is right. Stand by your friends, and your friends will stand by you. This sentence is as applicable to colored men as to white men. The latter have spoken for the former, and in doing so are simply consistant; they save the colored man the franchise and should re-assert his rights when assailed. The former now know who have been their true friends from bondage up to perfect freedom, and it is not probable they will forget this fact when their ballots are about to be recorded.—Daily Topic

American Iron--Gen. Cameron.

In this country, and at this time, when the great interests of the country are at stake, and when the friends of free trade—the emissaries of England permit no opportunity to pass without stabbing at the vital interests of American Industry, it affords us pleasure to chronicle the fact that our noble old Senator—the noblest Roman of them all, is found ever true, and ever at his post when the intercsts of the working men, the interests of Pennsylvania are at stake. We clip the following from the Harrisburg Telegraph:

"The Northern Pacific railroad bill, authorizing the company to issue its bonds for the construction of the road, and to secure the same by mortgage, binds the company to use nothing but American iron. This restriction in the use of material was imposed at the instance of Gen. Cameron, on whose motion a provision was inserted in the bill 'that in the construction of the road American iron or steel only shall be used, the same to be manufactured from American ore exclusively. In this shape the bill passed the Senate on Thursday last by a vote of 41 to 11. Gen. Cameron avails himself of every opportunity that offers to promote the interests of Pennsylvania. He is a sleepless sentinel, ever wary and watchful—an able, energetic, and influential representative of whom the State has reason to be proud."

The Canadian volunteer corps in active service is to be disbanded immediately, except those on the frontier.

HORRIBLE.

A FEMALE PROBST IN BALTIMORE.

A Woman Cuts the Throats of her Mother and Four Children.

The following account of a horrible murder prepetrated at Baltimore on the night of the 21st inst., we copy from the Philadelphia Press of Friday last:

BALTIMORE, April 21.—The entire city was greatly excited to-night by the report that five horrible murders had been perpetrated by a mother who had cut the throats of four of her children and of her own mother. The report proved true, the facts being as follows: About four o'clock this afternoon, Mrs. Catharine Marsh, who with her four children lived with her parents, Mr. and Mrs Dwyer, at No. 99 Canal St., a few squares from Bellair Market, committed the horrible butcheries, first killing her children, and then assaulting her mother, Mrs. Dwyer.

The mother of Mrs. Marsh, in her ante-mortem examination to-night, stated that about 4 P. M., herself and daughter, Catharine Marsh, and three children of Catharine, being the only persons in the house at the time, Catharine asked her if she had ten cents, and on her answering "No," Catharine said she had ten cents, and put on her bonnet and left the house. She went a few doors and borrowed a butcher knife, and thence proceeded to District School, No. 13, and calling out her son James, aged eight years, cut his throat from ear to ear, nearly severing the head from his body. A little boy named Burnett, came out of the school room with James, and witnessed the murder. Catharine then rushed at the boy Burnett, but he escaped her. Thence she returned to her home, and went into the back yard, where another son, William, aged seven years, was swinging, his little sister, Mary Jane, aged four years, being at play near by. She siezed William, cut his throat, causing instant death, and then the daughter, nearly cutting off her head. Then she went in the house, and cut the throat of her youngest child, George, aged about two years and five months, the head being almost severed from the body. She next assaulted her mother, aged about fifty-four years, a very feeble woman, cutting her throat so severely that she cannot survive.

Mrs. Marsh, the murderess, is aged about 27 years, was born in County Kerry, Ireland, and has been in the United States about ten years.—She was married some nine years ago, in this city, to Wm. Marsh, a barber, who left here about eighteen months since to find employment elsewhere, and is now said to live in New York city. The reputation and character of Mrs. Marsh is said to have been very good, and she was undoubtedly temporarily insane when committing the murders. The faces of the murdered children, as they lay side by side to-night, are as placid and calm as if they were composed in sweet sleep. They are dressed neatly in the same clothes they wore when killed. At 9 P. M., the mother, who is confined at the Eastern District police station, was conscious of her terrible deed.

A CHILD BITTEN BY A RAT.—The Mechanicsburg Journal says: A short time since a child of Mr. —— Mrs. John Fletcher, residing on North Market street, a little fellow only seven weeks old, was bitten and severely injured by a rat that crawled into the crib in which the child was sleeping. There were three or four gashes on the left cheek, and as many more on the nose and forehead, where the rat had bitten the child. Its screams awoke the parents, who, as would be supposed, were horrified at seeing the little fellow's face all covered with blood. We called in to see the child on Tuesday, and are pleased to say that he is in a fair way of speedy recovery.

GIN AND MILK—A GOOD NATURED CLERGYMAN IN TROUBLE.—N. York, April 22—Rev. Dr. C. B. Smythe, of the Eleventh St., Presbyterian Church, was tried to day by the Presbytery, for having, on the conclusion of his sermon on last Sunday; treated the reporters to "gin and milk." All the reporters were present to give their evidence. He said he did not ask the reporters to drink; he took them to a saloon to dinner, that he might give them his notes. They called for what they wanted; he did not ask them to take "gin and milk." They called for it themselves. He did not tell the barkeeper to "hang it up." He did not pay at the time because it was Sunday.

There was great excitement among the congregation in regard to the matter. The trial was not concluded today and adjourned until May 3d.

Mr. James Fisk, Jr., has offered to give up the whole of his personal property to the foreign stockholders in the Erie Railroad, if they will consent to apply it to the liquidation of the Alabama claims. This offer is tantamount to an admission that the stockholders in question are at least entitled to some reparation from Mr. Fisk.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

The reputation this excellent medicine enjoys, is derived from its cures, many of which are truly marvellous. Inveterate cases of Scrofulous disease, where the system seemed saturated with corruption, have been purified and cured by it. Scrofulous affections and disorders which were aggravated by the scrofulous contamination until they were painfully afflicting, have been radically cured in such great numbers in almost every section of the country, that the public scarcely need to be informed of its virtues or uses.

Scrofulous poison is one of the most destructive enemies of our race. Often, this unseen and unfelt tenant of the organism undermines the constitution, and invites the attack of enfeebling or fatal diseases, without exciting a suspicion of its presence. Again, it seems to breed infection throughout the body, and then, on some favorable occasion, rapidly develop into one or other of its hideous forms, either on the surface or among the vitals. In the latter, tubercles may be suddenly deposited in the lungs or heart, or tumors formed in the liver, or it shows its presence by eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcerations on some part of the body. Hence the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and, at length, cure, by the use of this SARSAPARILLA: St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Sore Ears, and other eruptions or visible forms of Scrofulous disease. Also in the more concealed forms, as Dyspepsia, Dropsy, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, Neuralgia, and the various Ulcerous affections of the muscular and nervous systems.

Syphilis or Venereal and Mercurial Diseases are cured by it, though a long time is required for subduing these obstinate maladies by any medicine. But long-continued use of this medicine will cure the complaint. Leucorrhœa or Whites, Uterine Ulcerations, and Female Diseases, are commonly soon relieved and ultimately cured by its purifying and invigorating effect. Minute directions for each case are found in our Almanac, supplied gratis. Rheumatism and Gout, when caused by accumulations of extraneous matters in the blood, yield quickly to it, as also Liver Complaints, Torpidity, Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and Jaundice, when arising, as they often do, from the rankling poisons in the blood. SARSAPARILLA is a great restorer for the strength and vigor of the system. Those who are Languid and Listless, Despondent, Sleepless, and troubled with Nervous Apprehensions or Fears, or any of the affections symptomatic of Weakness, will find immediate relief and convincing evidence of its restorative power upon trial.

ROSADALIS.

THE GREAT AMERICAN health RESTORER, purifies the blood and cures Scrofula, Syphilis, Skin diseases, Rheumatism, Diseases of Women, and all Chronic Affections of the blood, Liver and Kidneys. Recommended by the Medical Faculty and many thousands of our best citizens. Read the testimony of Physicians and patients who have used Rosadalis; send for our Rosadalis Guide to Health Book, or Almanac for this year, which we publish for gratuitous distribution; it will give you much valuable information.

Dr. R. W. Carr, of Baltimore, says: I take pleasure in recommending your ROSADALIS as a very powerful alterative. I have seen it used in two cases with happy results—one in a case of secondary syphilis, in which the patient pronounced himself cured after having taken five bottles of your medicine. The other is a case of scrofula of long standing, which is rapidly improving under its use, and the indications are that the patient will soon recover. I have carefully examined the formula by which your Rosadalis is made, and find it an excellent compound of alterative ingredients.

Dr. Sparks, of Nicholasville, Ky., says he has used Rosadalis in cases of Scrofula and Secondary Syphilis with satisfactory results—as a cleanser of the Blood I know no better remedy.

Samuel G. McFadden, Murfreesboro', Tenn., says:

I have used seven bottles of Rosadalis, and am entirely cured of Rheumatism; send me four bottles, as I wish it for my brother, who has scrofulous sore eyes.

Benjamin Bechtol, of Lima, Ohio, writes, I have suffered for twenty years with an inveterate eruption over my whole body; a short time since I purchased a bottle of Rosadalis and it effected a perfect cure.

JOB WORK.—Posters, Circulars, Bill Heads, Cards, Paper Books, Job Work of all kinds, neatly executed at the REPUBLICAN OFFICE, at reasonable rates.

WELCOME.—Quite a number of our subscribers called to see our NewGordon, and pay over the Greenbacks due us. Welcome, gentlemen, come again.

NEW SIGNS.—J. G. Kurtz, has painted two more of his inimitable signs. One for Forster, Devling & Co., the other for D. M. Wagner & Son. Kurtz has no superior in this line of his business.

REPAIRED.—Our old and substantial friend A. Sussman has repaired and repainted his dwelling house on High St. It presents a neat appearance, and shows that Mr. Dugan is master of his business.

NEW GOODS.—John Cooke, has received a large and splendid assortment of Dry Goods, Groceries, &c., from the eastern cities. Mr. Cooke is one of our most enterprising and accommodating merchants and is therefore doing a good business.

PLUMBER, &c.—Dr. Baily at his large Plumber and Gas Fitting establishment in the McClain Block, opposite the Bush House, is doing a splendid business. Persons in want of anything in Dr. Bailey's branch of business would do well to give him a call.

IN behalf of our agent we take this opportunity of thanking Messrs. Barlow, of Port Matilda; and Love, of Half Moon for their assistance in securing subscribers also to Messrs Pringle, of Port Matilda and Love of Half Moon for their generous hospitality.

REMOVED.—Mrs. John I. Rankin, formerly Miss Lembkey, has removed her fine Millinery and Fancy Store to the Brockerhoff building, one door South of Harper & Brothers dry goods store, on Spring street. Mrs. Rankin has a fine assortment, and understands her business well.

RUN AWAY.—Quite an excitement was created on last Monday morning, by the running away of Irwin & Wilson's horse, with the wagon attached. The wagon was upset, a shaft broke but as good luck would have it the horse was not injured. Carelessness on the part of the driver the cause.

TECHNOLOGIST.—This excellent illustrated Journal of Engineering, Manufacturing and Building comes to us once more filled with the choicest and most useful reading matter. It is issued by The Industrial Publication Company, 176 Broadway, New York. One copy, one year $2,00.

CRUEL.—We have been requested to call the attention of the clergymen of this place, to the fact that a clause in the United States Constitution declares that "Cruel and unusual punishments shall not be inflicted." The allegation is that this provision was totally disregarded on last Sunday evening.

LOVESVILLE.—Is a village situated in Half Moon township, about three miles from Centre Line and about 1½ miles from the Ferguson township line. It contains a store, blacksmith shop, wagonmaker shop with their necessary dwelling houses also one farm house. The town is called after Col. James Love who owns the land surrounding it.

HARDWARE.—J. & J. Harris have just received a large addition to their already excellent stock of Hardware. Quietly but steadily and surely these clever young men are winning the confidence of the purchasing public and as quietly supplying the wants of their customers. They must and will succeed because they advertise in the REPUBLICAN.

NEW HOUSES—Notwithstanding Meeks howling about hard times the Spring opens up, and with it the building of a new Rolling Mill and quite a number of new houses in our town. Capt. Wm. Ickhoff has his new building under roof and will have it completed in a few weeks. Times will liven up as we get over the results of the Democratic rebellion.

DRUG STORE.—Frank P. Green has a beautiful Drug Store in the Bush House. It is really beautiful. In one of his windows he has a minature fountain, minature mountains, minature bridges, rocks, moss, fish and everything delightful and pleasing to the eye. Inside he keeps constantly on hand a large supply of pure and fresh drugs, fancy articles, &c., &c. He deserves success.

A MEMORABLE MONTH.—During the past ten years, April has been a memorable month in the calendar. The attack on Fort Sumter and the beginning of the long civil war occurred on the 19th of April. Richmond and Petersburg were evacuated by the rebels on the 3rd of April; Lee surrendered on the 9th; Abraham Lincoln was shot on the 14th and died on the 15th, a little past seven o'clock; J. Wilkes Booth, the murderer, was shot by Boston Corbett on the 24th, and on the 27th Johnston surrendered his army to Sherman.

ADVERTISING.—Some of the Merchants in this town, not many of them however, argue that it does not pay to advertise, yet they will pay J. G. Kurtz $100 for painting a sign to put up over their place of business, which ninety-nine out of every hundred of the community will never notice at all. It is a question long since settled that judicious advertising in a live newspaper does pay—pays well—five hundred per cent. on the capital invested. The majority of our Merchants believe this doctrine as witness the columns of the BELLEFONTE REPUBLICAN.

MAXIMS FOR BUSINESS MEN.—When a business man reaches the point where he thinks that he can not spare any time to examine sources of financial and commercial information, he may safely conclude that his business is not well managed.

When a business man finds himself in a financial situation so embarrassing that he can not afford to possess every publication that would throw more light upon his business transactions, he should not delay making arrangements with an auctioneer to close out his stock to the highest bidder.

The above maxims are taken from the columns of the New York Mercantile Journal, which is the best, as well as one of the largest mercantile newspapers published in the United States. Its market reviews, and carefully revised lists of jobbers' prices, embracing almost every quotable article of merchandise, together with its judicious editorials, fill more than thirty-five (35) columns every week. The subscription price is only $5 00 per year, (less than 10 cents per week, and less than 1½ cents per day.) Parties desiring this valuable publication, should address THE N. Y. MERCANTILE JOURNAL CO., 350 Pearl street, New York City.

REPORT of Julian School, No., Huston township, for the month ending April 19, 1870. C. H. Cambridge, Teacher. Number in attendance during month, 42; average 28; per cent., 49; per cent. during term, 68; alphabet, 0; spelling, 28; reading 28; writing, 28; mental arithmetic, 28; written arithmetic, 22; geography, 12; map drawing taught in connection with geography, grammar, 28; phonetic spelling, 28; number of visits by directors during term, 8; parents, 12; citizens, 32; teachers, 9. Number of miles traveled during term—110 days—to and from boarding house, 880. School closed with a general examination of all the classes, to a large audience of parents, teachers and citizens.

ADMITTED.—Jacob Rhone, Esq., of Centre Hall, was admitted to the practice of the law in the several Courts of Centre county, on Monday, the 25th inst. Mr. Rhone graduated at the Abby Law University of the State of N. Y., in May, 1869. Before entering upon the study of law he completed a classical course at the Penn'a College at Gettysburg. It is the intention of Mr. Rhone, as we have been informed, to leave his native county in a few days for Marysville, Nodoway Co., Mo., where he will enter upon the practice of his profession. He is a young man of excellent character and attainments and we wish him success in his new home.

WATCHES, &c.—Frank P. Blair, son of Gen. Wm. H. Blair, has purchased the jewelry establishment of J. H. Hahn. Frank is a young man of sober and industrious habits, and is one of the best Clock and Watch makers in this country. As an engraver he has few if any equals in the State. We have been shown some specimens of his engraving equal to anything we have ever seen executed in the cities. Suffice it to say that he is a superior workman and intends to make a specialty of repairing Clocks and Watches. All work warranted. American Watches, Clocks and every description of Jewelry kept constantly on hand. See advertisement.

ATTENTION LADIES.—We take great pleasure in calling the attention of our readers, and especially the ladies, to the fact, that Mrs. M. E. Armor has just received from Philadelphia a splendid assortment of Millinery and Fancy Goods, such as Bonnets, Hats, Trimmings, &c., and everything in the Millinery line, all of which are of the latest style and fashion. Having secured the services of first class Milliners, whose taste and work cannot be surpassed, we venture the assertion that all goods purchased at Mrs Armor's will give entire satisfaction in every respect. Store in Brockerhoff's new Building, (up stairs) Bishop street. See advertisement in another column.

STORMSTOWN.—This is where Half Moon P. O. is. The town is improving since the fire. New buildings have been constructed that make the town appear very well. The town does not now afford a regular hotel; but there is a building under construction now that is designed, we were told, for a public house. Any one traveling through there and desiring to stop can be accommodated at a house licensed for the purpose of entertaining man and horse.

The people still complain of the losses they sustained during that memorable fire. They revert to their former condition and fear their town will never be what it was ten years ago.

GOT A CANING.—Capt. W. W. Potter, we understand was the lucky recipiant of the beautiful gold-headed cane purchased by the Good Templars of this place. D. G. Bush, Esq., and Capt. W. W. Potter, were selected by the Good Templars as candidates, or competitors for the cane. An election was held. Price of tickets 25 cts. The polls closed last Saturday night at nine o'clock. Capt. Potter was elected to receive the caning. It is said he bore it like a good natured jolly fellow, as he is. The Captain will sport a $40,00 cane, and the Good Templars will feel all the better for the benefits derived from the proceeds.

THE BRIGHT SIDE for April, just received, is a rare specimen of beauty in both its typography and illustrations. Its contents, too, have a peculiar spice, cheerfulness and pith, about them which is decidedly relishing to grown people as well as children. With such an attractive title and pleasing appearance, and such characteristic merit as is evident upon perusal, it is no wonder that though only ten months old it already takes rank as one of the best children's papers. The numbers from March to July are offered free to new subscribers. 50 cents a year. Alden & Co., Publishers, Chicago, Ill.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—

Please do us the honor of publishing this brief report of Centre School, in Ferguson township. The pride and boast of every teacher should be—"I have the most regular attendance, and the largest average of any school in the district." Were this the case, what a marked difference would there be in the schools? Visit them when you would, every scholar would be found in his or her proper seat, the school would be interesting, and the scholars all show a disposition to excel in their studies. But the question arises, how can we render our schools interesting so as to elicit the attendance of every scholar? What can be done that we may please all, and that all may have a desire for, and an interest in attending school? It lies with you, teacher, you can do it all if you are so diposed. Has it never occurred to you fellow-teacher, as it frequently has to me that a monotonous school was the ruination of it? The scholar naturally becomes tired of the repetition of the same programme every day. It is imbedded in human nature, to have variety, for "variety is the spice of life. Now it is the teacher's place to study. Try to invent something new every day, something that you know will interest the mind of the child, and I will wager almost anything that your school will be regularly attended. We adopted this plan during our session which just closed and feel proud to say that we succeeded most admirably as a brief reference to our monthly reports as here given will show: 1st month 92 per cent., 2nd 95, 3d 90, 4th 88, and 5th month (owing to the lateness of the season) 85. This per centage of attendance in a country district where many of the scholars have from a mile to one and half miles to go through roads almost impassible, speaks volumes, and in consequence we feel like challenging any other country district for a more favorable report. Many of our scholars were in attendance 108 days in a session of 110 days. For diligence, best attendance, 110 days (which is full time) and a strict observance of the school motto "Always on time," little Blanche Meek, is entitled to the prize. Visitations of Directors have by no means come up to the requirements of the law—Sect. Harvey visited us three times, Messrs. Brett & Erb, each once, of the other three their smiling approval, and encouraging words never once greeted our ears. To sum up in a nut-shell the facts are about as follows: Four of the Board are intelligent, enterprizing and progressive; the remaining two are almost stationary, who still cling to old time and fogyism, ignorant themselves, and if they did aim to do right, they know not how.

To parents and guardians—though we had not the pleasure of recording as many visits as we should liked to have done, they generally wished us well, and with one or two exceptions, they as an intelligent body of citizens, manifest a laudible interest in the cause of education. Their earnest desire is to have their children well educated, and to enjoy the rich blessings which our present common school system so freely offers them. I cannot close these few scattered remarks without expressing my strong hopes that a still brighter day is soon to dawn upon the common schools of Ferguson District. C. B. H.

For the Republican.

SNOW SHOE, April 15, 1870.

MESSRS. EDITORS:

As many of the citizens of Centre county are interested in the lumber trade, and the question has often been asked how long will it take to consume all the timber at the present rate of cutting in the county, with your permission I propose to make, from personal observation, some statements of the amount of timber yet to be cut on Beech Creek and its tributaries; which may be interesting to some of your readers.

At a fair estimate I think there is yet to cut on Beech Creek and its tributaries, about 250,000,000 feet board measure, about one fourth of which is Hemlock, Oak and Yellow Pine, the balance White Pine. The best quality of White Pine is on the upper part of the stream. There are some very good White Pine timber on the Big Run or east branch; but there are no lands on that branch which will compare with the White Pine in the vicinity of Snow Shoe, either, in quality or quantity. Some 400 acre tracts on the upper part of the stream have cut from 8 to 12 million feet, Sandy and Council Runs being the best. On the east branch or Big Run I do not think there are any 400 acre tracts will cut over four millions, while there are many that are entirely barren on the main stream. From the mouth to Snow Shoe the timber is very nearly all cut and taken off, most of it that remains on the stream is in the lower end laying at the mouth of the Salt Lick and Monument Run's, where still remains three tracts of White Pine timber. There are no other timber of any account on the main stream till at the Junction of the North and South forks where there is another very good tract.

There are some very good timber yet on the eddy, Hays, Wolf and Sandy Runs, also on the North fork of the main stream and on the South fork West of the B. & S. S. R. R. The timber up here is mostly White and Yellow Pine with some very good Oak. The Hemlock is mostly of an inferior quality. On the lower end of the stream there are some of the best oak in the country, and most of the Hemlock is of a very superior quality.

The pine on the east branch is mostly large and toward its head is of a very good quality, but the greater part of the timber on that branch is not so good as upon the other.

But at the present rate of cutting about 25,000,000 yearly, the time is not far distant when that once noble body of majestic pines on Beech Creek will have given way before the sturdy wood-mans axe and saw, and those once valuable timber lands will be worthless, there being nothing left but the naked rocks and charred remains of the lumber; for after the fire passes through there is nothing left that is valuable. There are now thousands of acres of cut lands so badly burned that not a green tree is left. Taking the timber on Beech Creek and the amount taken off as an example for other lumbering districts in this county, the question may well be asked, and asked seriously, where will the next generation, who inhabit Centre County, get their white pine lumber?

LUMBERMAN.

THE Educational Gazette for April comes to our table laden with an unusually rich store of good things for young and old. The articles are sensible, high-toned, full of life and zest, and teach noble lessons, such as persons of all classes will be likely to learn, remember, and profit by. We think every school-boy should read the story "The Real Tell-Tale," which appears in this number of the Gazette. We cannot too highly commend this publication to our readers. It is truly a good paper, cheap, valuable and instructive,—a fitting companion for every teacher, parent, and child. It should be read at every fireside in the land.

Messrs. C. H. Turner & Co., 607 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, are the publishers. Send for a specimen copy,—not forgetting to enclose One Dollar, a year's subscription.

Dr. John D. Wingate, from Bellefonte, Pennsylvania, is here on professional business, for a short time. As a dentist he is second to none. Some of the citizens here are negotiating to have him locate in our midst. We would hail him, and can assure him a good practice.

We say to the Republican most graciously, however, you cannot have the Doctor. We cannot spare him from this community. He is a good Dentist and has as much business as he can do. Spare him, no.

UNDERTAKERS.—S. H. Williams & Co., dealers in cottage furniture and furniture of all kinds have added to their business that of undertaker. They have coffins of all kinds and sizes constantly on hand, or made to order. They have also purchased a most beautiful Hearse, of splendid style and neat finish.

This is an enterprising energetic firm, have been doing an excellent trade in the furniture line, and they have deserved it. The undertaking business, is a necessary business; but we hope that neither we nor our readers will need anything in this line for years to come. When it does come, as come it will to all of us, may we be ready.

CLEANING UP.—Our little notice on cleaning up last week had the desired effect—caused our borough dads to set everybody to work, hauling off their ash piles and other filth. But the job is not finished. The loose stone, old shoes, old barrel staves and hoops, and other rubbish still remain. Now we hope the alley's will be neglected no longer. Some of them are in a terrible condition. Without cleanliness, we cannot hope for good health.

HOTEL.—The Hotel at Port Matilda, formerly kept by Capt. John I. Merrison, is now kept by Wm B. Butler, formerly of Phila. Mr. Butler is a clever, whole souled man, and spares no pains to make his guests comfortable. We hope our Republican friends will take good care of Mr. Butler and endeavor to win him over to the ranks of the great Republican party.

GARDEN SEEDS.—If you want a nice garden; if you want a good garden; if you don't want to be deceived by worthless seeds; if you want good and pure seeds, true to name, call at the Book Store of J. D. Miller, Post Office Building, and purchase C. W. Lambert's Sunny Side Garden Seeds, or order by mail. Address, C. W. Lambert, Bellefonte, Pa. All seeds sent postage paid.

PLANTATION BITTERS.

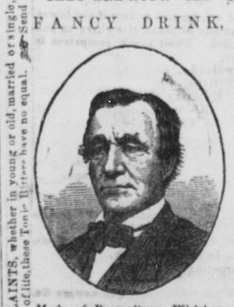
THE GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS.

MORE THAN 500,000 PERSONS Bear testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY?

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,



Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits, and Refuse Liquors, declared spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true medicine made from the native Roots and Herbs of California free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the Great Blood Purifier and Life Giving Principle, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator, of the System, carrying off all poisonous matter, and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell.

$100 will be given for an incurable case provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poisons or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism, and Gout, Dyspepsia, or Indigestion Bilious, Remittent, and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys, and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE, and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed.

In Bilious, Remittent, and Intermittent Fevers, these Bitters have no equal. For full directions read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French, and Spanish.

How to Plant and Prune Vineyards.

First, plant the stronger growing varieties as Isabella, Concord, Diana, etc., twelve to fifteen feet apart in the trellis, with a space of nine feet between, and never carry the vine more than six feet from the ground. If you carry your trellis to the height of six and a half or seven feet, you must increase the distance between the rows; otherwise the ground will be too much shaded, and ripening the fruit retarded from want of heat: besides at that height the labor of securing the vine to the top wire is much harder, and women and children cannot do it at all.

Second. On the Deleware leave laterals; on other varieties pinch them back just so far on the shoot as you wish to save it for fruit next year, and no further; beyond that let them grow at will.

Third. Except this, no summer pruning whatever. Let the shoots grow, fastening them to the top of the trellis backwards and forwards, thus forming an arbor over the fruit below; and experience in various places has proved this to be one of the best protections against mildew. So far as I know, to Mr. Saunders, of Washington, belongs the credit of first testing this and publishing the result.

Fourth. As to time of pruning, I would in this latitude prefer spring for Isabellas Dianas, and all rank-growing varieties whose wood is liable to winter-kill. Would prune Delaware, Catawba, and all varieties short jointed and hardy. in the fall, always leaving abundance of wood, as it is very easy to remove an excess of fruit or superfluous shoots; and, finally, let every vineyardist study and observe intelligently the habits of different varieties, their needs, and adaptation to particular soils and localities. In this way only shall we be able to help each other, and avoid the costly mistakes of the past.

As regards the sacharine quality of grapes grown upon vines planted fifteen feet or more apart, our experience here shows no difference when grown upon the same quality of soil. Excessive richness of soil, producing rank growth of vine and great quantity of fruit, is incompatible with high sacharine quality; the experience of centuries has settled this.—Tilton's Journal of Horticulture.

Testing Vitality of Seed--Corn.

Every farmer ought to know the value of his corn for seed. A shallow box of earth in the kitchen will be sufficient to test it. It may be desirable to test several samples, but no one of these need occupy more than a trifle of space. If one has a hot-bed, the box, or what would be better, small flower pots could be bedded in the hot bed. A little attention to this matter may prevent large loss.

A quantity of seed corn was tested by Mr. Franks in the hot house, January and February. 1870, as reported in the Iowa Homestead:—No. 1, 16 per cent grew; No. 2, 64 per cent; No. 3, 48 per cent; No. 4, 36 per cent; No. 5, 44 per cent: No. 6, 76 per cent; No. 7, 72 per cent; No. 8, 96 per cent; No. 9, 88 per cent; No. 10, 73 per cent: No. 11, 80 per cent; No. 12, 96 per cent; No. 13, 4 per cent.

This shows that we have a poor lot of seed-corn, and proves the necessity of testing our seed thoroughly before planting. Every farmer can do this, and while he is doing it let him have some rules that will give him a lesson for the future.

We will take an average ear that is supposed to be good. He now picks out half a row of the grain, beginning at the butt end of the ear; these are counted and planted in the box, and a label put by it marked No, 1, and a memorandum made of the fact, also as it is called; it is a pure white, a whitish yellow, or of a yellow shade. The other part of the row is treated in the same manner, and labelled No. 2. We may now take the centre half of the next row, and mark it No. 3. We are now ready to ascertain the vitality of grains in the several parts of the ear; the butt, the top, or the centre.

The farmers of Chester county have reduced the wages of farm labor one dollar to one dollar and a half per month. In Bucks county farm hands are scarce, and the prevailing rates by the year range between $200 and $240 with board furnished. By the month, for summer work, men can get from $20 to $25 with board.

Advices from all points upon the large tributaries of the Mississipi indicate that the height of the flood is not yet attained. Very much property has been destroyed, and various towns are threatened with further and serious losses on account of the washing away of the river banks.

John Cottle, a Cincinnati policeman, convicted of manslaughter, was so overcome by his sentence of five years in the Penitentiary, that his hair has turned white, and he lost fifty pounds in weight within six weeks after his arrest.

How is it that butchers often have the propensities of betting men? Because they are frequently holding stealks.

COMPLETION OF THE PACIFIC RAILROAD.

GREAT RUSH TO STERNBERG'S.

Sung to the Tune of Yankee Doodle.

The Great Pacific Railroad's laid,
From ocean unto ocean,
And now comple connection's made,—
An enterprising notion.

The mighty work at last is done,
So speedily and brisk, oh!
And now in ten days we can run
From here to San Francisco.

No more we take the ancient route,
The stage, a horrid slow thing;
It banged the passengers about,
And wore out all their clothing.

CHORUS, for the end of each verse:

The Great Pacific Railroad's laid,
From ocean unto ocean,
And we buy clothes from A. STERNBERG,
A most delightful notion.

Through passengers by the Pacific Railroad will call at the store of A. Sternberg, before starting, and provide themselves with a complete outfit of the elegant and substantial Spring and Summer Clothing, the very best assortment of which will always be found at A. Sternberg's Store.

People who travel by other routes, and also people who, instead of traveling by any route at all, prefer to stay at home, can find the most superior and seasonable garments, for every occasion, of every variety, and at the lowest prices.

Do not fail to call and examine our stock before purchasing elsewhere; if you do not, we are sure you will be sorry that you did not. Our goods are put down to the lowest figure. We sell whole suits, according to quality,

RANGING FROM $6.50 TO $18.00

Among sewing machines, those made by the Singer Manufacturing Company rank with the highest. Their manufacturing machines, have long been known as the best for manufacturing purposes. But within the past few years, they have given special attention to the production of a

The machine which they now offer is quite light-running, simple, fast, noiseless Its accessories for are simple and easily understood. Its delicate though enduring and tireless muscles of iron and steel, do all the work noiselessly, better, and few will deny, "Faster than hand can do it." They urge those wishing to purchase a machine, to examine all the other manufactures before buying, as it will, for itself, overcome all the objections to the other machines that can be brought against it.
